QUAY CASE STARTED.

Seven Jurors Had Been Secured up to Noon To-day.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

Philadelphia, April 10.—The trial of former United States Senator Matthew Stanley Quay and his son, Richard B. Quay, on charges of conspiracy in the alleged misuse of funds of the People's Bank of this city, was called at ten o'clock this morning before Judge Beidler in the Court of Quarter Sessions and counsel for both sides announced their readiness to proceed with the trial. Mr. Quay and his son had been in the city for several days consulting with their counsel relative to the case.

Contrary to almost general expectation the work of securing a jury proceeded with but slight friction, and by noon seven jurors were accepted.

District Attorney Kothmel has no assistance in the prosecution of the case outside of his office staff. Senator Quay and his son are represented by Rufus E. Shapley and A. S. L. Shields, of this city, and David T. Watson, of Pittsburgh.

HELD UP.

Highway Robbery Frustrated by a Watchman's Timely Arrival.

An attempt at highway robbery was made near the Cambridge colliery at about eleven o'clock last evening. The parties held up were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reese, of Turkey Run, who were on their way home from town. They were suddenly confronted by a man with a drawn revolver. The man wore a light overcoat and a mask covered his face. The sudden approach of the fellow caused Mrs. Reese to scream, which attracted the attention of Thomas O'Connell, the night watchman on the colliery. Upon seeing the approach of the latter with a lantern in his wayman beat a retreat in the darkness. Mr. and Mrs. Reese continued their journey unmolested. This incident took place in the district for which a police patrol was asked at the last meeting of the Borough Council.

The Sadusky Hoax.

In spite of the despatches sent from Pottsville to the Philadelphia newspapers Saturday night that Charles Sadusky, the murderer of Charles Ringhoiser in this town, had been arrested at Apollo, Armstrong county, and landed in the Pottsville jail, Sadusky is still at large. Constable Gibbon has returned here after a fruitless journey to Apollo. The man arrested at that place was not Sadusky, but resembled him in many respects.

Parents are Grateful.

Supt. Biddle and his efficient corps of assistants at the Miners' hospital are almost daily in receipt of appreciative letters from patients who have been successfully treated at that institution. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phillips, of Wilburton, have publicly expressed their gratefulness to Dr. Biddle for the care and service rendered in the treatment of their son, George, who suffered from a badly fractured skull. He is a brother of Mrs. A. D. Gable, of town.

Sought Rest on the Tracks.

A foreigner, very drunk, was ejected from a Lakeside car near Yatesville, at about 11 o'clock last night. The man, being unable to walk, sought rest on the railway track after the car had continued on its way. When the car bound for Shenandoah came along the crew found the man lying directly across the track. He was removed from his resting place and left by the wayside.

Specimens of Minerals.

Philip Mader, of East State street, is in receipt of several specimens of copper, lead and silver ore. They were sent to him by his sons, William and Edward, who left town over a year ago and are now engaged in mining at Stanford, Montana. The young men are prospering in their new venture.

Mine Foreman Injured.

Joseph Bierschmidt, a well-known Mt. Carmel citizen, foreman of the Locust Spring colliery at Locust Gap, suffered a painful injury Saturday. He was in the act of descending the slope in a mine wagon, when the car jumped the track. He was thrown from the car and received a long laceration in the left side of the head, while his face, body and hands were severely bruised.

Successful Meeting.

A very successful missionary meeting was held in the First Baptist church last evening. Rev. D. I. RICH HAUL IN A SALOON.

Five Hundred Dollars Taken From a Till This Afternoon.

MONEY REPRESENTED SAVINGS!

The Loser is John Kruczekski—He Had Intended Placing the Money in Bank To-day—The Story Told by the Victim's Wife.

Somebody is about $500 richer than he was yesterday, at the expense of John Kruczekski, a Lithuanian who keeps a saloon at the corner of Main and Poplar streets. The money represented savings, and amounted to a little more than the figure above given. It was intended by Mr. Kruczekski to take the money to the bank to-day, but other business interfered and it was left in the till of the bar.

The robbery occurred at about one o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Kruczekski was absent. His wife went upstairs to do housework, leaving her two sons, John, Jr., aged 23 years, and Joseph, aged 17 years, in the saloon. They were engaged in repairing a bicycle. Mrs. Kruczekski says she was absent about ten minutes. When she returned to the barroom it was deserted, the two sons having left the place.

Mrs. Kruczekski at once thought of the money and went to the bar till to see if it was safe. To her dismay she found the savings gone. She says the money was there after her husband left the house in the morning.

The two sons have been closely questioned and they deny all knowledge of the money. Their parents have implicit confidence in them.

When asked if there was anyone to whom suspicion was directed, Mrs. Kruczekski said a man had entered about the saloon for some time during the day, and paid several visits to the place.

A Warning Note.

EDITOR EVENING HERALD.—It is currently reported in the newspapers that preparations for extinguishing the great fire at the Lawrence colliery are nearly completed, and that after the brick and cement dam is constructed, water will be introduced down through an air hole in the lift above, and in this way its extinguishment can be quickly and effectually accomplished. As a miner, I am quite agreed with the course being pursued, the matter in charge. There is only one feature in cases of this kind that I am led to believe is, sometimes, overlooked, the result is, infrequently being great loss of life to the unfortunate in the mine at the time the mine, or that section of it, is being flooded. The great danger lies in the fact that the water rushing down a manway, or air hole, with a heavy pitch drives any gas that may have accumulated in any part of the mine toward the fire, causing a terrific explosion, and, what is more terrible, loss of life. There are still different opinions to-day as to what is the cause of the catastrophe being extinguished at the mine at Lawrence in 1898. Be that as it may, the fact remains that the explosion occurred during the flooding of the mine, and lives were sacrificed. I would urge that the Mine Inspector see that not an individual be allowed to enter, or remain, in the Lawrence mine while it is being flooded. It would suggest this as a precaution before it is too late, not after.

Pottsville's New Daily.

Those interested in Pottsville's new afternoon daily say it will make its initial bow about the first week in May, and that the plant of the Daily Local, of Ashland, owned by J. Harry James, Esq., will furnish the nucleus for the plant, with that gentleman as editor-in-chief. It will be an out-and-out Quay paper. Another rumor coming from a reliable source, is to the effect that the establishment of a new paper is merely a bluff, and that the gentlemen supposed to be interested are quietly negotiating for the purchase of the Evening Chronicle; and that Editor Wilson, of Mt. Carmel, is acting as the go-between.

Mr. Snyder, in answer to Judge Bechtel, stated that he was worth about $25,000 in property located in Shenandoah, Mifflersville, Pottsville and Middletown. His name was allowed to go on the bond, but the hearing fixed for the court that he should be sure that he was worth too many license bonds before signing any more. Mr. Snyder replied that he thought he was on about ten already.

In the matter of the application of St. Ludwig's Lithuanian Beneficial Society of Shenandoah, Mr. Bechtel said he would file a demurrer to the petition filed by Attorneys Holloper and Beddall, on the ground that, even if true, they form no valid reason why a charter should not be granted. In the case of Manbeck vs. Jones, Mr. Schick urged the court to take action, but Mr. Wallinger said Mr. Jones had removed his obstructions, and the Manbecks, as well as the general public, had full access to the property. LAWTON'S EXPEDITION

Another Aggressive Move on the Belligerent Filipinos.

SANTA CRUZ OUR NEXT CAPTURE.

Fifteen Hundred Picked Soldiers Start With Ten Days' Rations, and Reports of Victories Are Now in Order—Our Government's Determined Policy.

Manila, April 10.—The expedition of 1,500 men, under Major General Henry W. Lawton, which started Saturday night with the intention of crossing Laguna de Bay, capturing the town of Santa Cruz, on the eastern shore of the lake, and then sweeping the country to the south, consists of 500 picked sharpshooters chosen from the various regiments, Hawthorne's mountain battery, Gales' squadron, three troops of the Fourth cavalry, unmounted, with Bronke's and Tappen's battalions of the Fourteenth infantry, Lincoln's battalion of the First Idaho infantry and Frainor's battalion of the First North Dakota infantry, under General King. The men were all in high spirits and carried rations for ten days, with the lightest marching equipment.

The flotilla of 20 canoes, towed by tugs and conveyed by the gunboats Laguna de Bay, Coite and Napidan, and preceded by the launch containing General Lawton and General King, started from San Pedro Macati, on the River Paig, moving toward the lake just as evening was setting in.

General Lawton's plan was to reach Santa Cruz yesterday morning at daylight, to capture or destroy any rebel gunboats or shipping, to take the town and then to scour the country to the south of a district yet explored by the Americans. The tactics will be those of the old time frontier fighting, and it is probable that the command will be broken up into bands of 12, under non-commissioned officers.

In General Lawton's absence the Second division is temporarily commanded by General Owenshine, whose lines extend from the beach near Malate, south of Manila, to the shore of Laguna de Bay beyond Paig, a distance of about 100 miles.

The withdrawal of the 15 companies constituting the expeditionary force made a gap in the line from the beach to Culcull, just southwest of San Pedro Macati, which was subsequently filled by the Fourth regular infantry. The result on the whole seems to have evidently been informed of the withdrawal of the troops, and they attempted to sneak through after night-fall, but were met with a warm reception and fell back in disorder on discovering that the line was still intact.

AWAITING NEWS OF CAPTURE.

Santa Cruz, the Capital of Laguna, Has 10,000 Population.

Washington, April 10.—The war department authorities look for complete news from Manila before night announcing, in all probability, the capture of the city of Santa Cruz, a leading town in a country as yet untouched by the American forces and now in the hands of the Filipino forces. Santa Cruz is a place of considerable importance in several respects. It is the capital of the province of Laguna, and has a population, according to the best available information here, of considerably more than 12,000 persons.

It is regarded as likely that General Lawton already has gained possession of this little stronghold, for it is but a short journey over the bay lagoon, a fresh water sea, which comes almost up to Manila itself, which is 48 miles away from Santa Cruz.

The details of the dispatch show that General Lawton, by essaying the formation of squads of 12 men each, will make a thorough reconnaissance of the ground before making a definite attack upon the city and vicinities. It is felt here that there will be only a show of resistance by the natives, and whether they actually surrender the town or abandon it to the southward the campaign against the place will serve as an object lesson of the determined policy of our forces in the islands.
